Will Build Residence.

Mr. Theodore Curry has broken ground for a residence on Richmond street on what is known as the "Ive Miller" lot. Mr. Curry hopes to complete his residence before cold weather.

Fair, Fair, Fair.

All persons interested in the future of the Lancaster Fair will meet at the county court room in Lancaster Ky., on Saturday afternoon Sept., 9th at 2 o'clock to discuss plans for the organization of a permanent Garrard county Fair Association. Everybody invited to be present.

Brother Rucker Gets Fooled.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an interesting communication from our good friend, Mr. I. C. Rucker of Paint Lick. Mr. Rucker tells of his visit to the Sanger Circus, and he evidently, as did many more of our susceptible citizens fell a prey to the wiles of the female impersonator who acted as an usher for the gentlemen who entered the tent, and they never discovered that SHE was a man.

Mike Conn Married.

In the list of marriage licenses issued published in the Lexington Herald appears "M. O. Conn" and Margaret Skeen. Diligent inquiry upon the part of the Record failed to get the particulars further than that they were married. Mike Owsley Conn is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conn and resides at Wilmore Ky. to which place he and his parents moved from this county, and Mike is engaged in the grocery and meat market business.

Republican Speaking.

Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, United States District Attorney for the eastern district of Kentucky and nephew of Senator Bradley will speak at the court house in Lancaster on Friday Sept. 8th at one o'clock. Mr. Morrow is one of the best speakers in the republican party and was a strong tip for Governor, but refused to become a candidate. A large crowd of Garrard County republicans will no doubt be on hand on the above named date to hear the silver tongued orator.

County Court.

Monday was an unusually quiet county court day in so far as business was concerned. There was a very large crowd here, and a goodly number of plug horses, mules and mule colts, but very few changed hands. Everybody seemed to be here for the purpose of inspecting the market, and to see what stock and farm products were going to be worth rather than to do any immediate trading. There was no cattle at the pens, the weather being too dry for the drovers to bring them through the country.

Gooch-Ribbals.

News has been received here of the marriage of Mr. Roy Gooch, son of W. R. Gooch, who is now located at Harriman, Tenn., and Miss Ruby Ribbals, of that city. They were married last Friday and left immediately for a trip to Louisville and other points. Mr. Gooch is employed in a jewelry store in Harriman and has made many friends in that city since going there. He is a hustling young business man and his friends here wish he and his bride much happiness.—Somerset Times.

Mr. Gooch is well known here where he was formerly associated with Mr. F. P. Frisbie in the jewelry business.

Land Brings Good Price.

Mr. Jesse B. Parks, who a few years ago purchased 175 acres of the J. Wade Walker farm on the Richmond pike three miles southeast of Paint Lick, paying $75. per acre therefor, has sold that farm to Center Bros. of Clay county for $125. per acre, possession to be given on January 1, 1912. This is second in quality to no farm in Garrard county. At the time Mr. Parks purchased the farm it was unimproved, but he has erected on it two dwellings and a barn, and has made many improvements, notwithstanding which he will realize a handsome profit by his sale. It is to be hoped that Mr. Parks will purchase property elsewhere in the county and remain with us, as he is one of Garrard's most substantial citizens.

School Opening.

The sixteenth session of the Garrard county Graded Schools opens Monday, September 4th, and it is expected that the attendance will exceed that of any of the former years. The school buildings have been thoroughly overhauled and painted, inside and out, the grounds and all surroundings placed in first class condition, and everything points to one of the most prosperous years in the history of Garrard county's splendid school.

Professor Riley and his splendid corps of teachers are already busy figuring out the grades and preparing the order of the conducting of the new school and by the time the opening bell taps every thing will be in readiness and no time will be wasted in the usual preliminaries. Elsewhere in this issue will be found Prof. Riley's assignment of his teachers for the coming school term.

Chinn Wins Nomination.

George P. Chinn, son of Col. Jack Chinn, was nominated for the legislature by the democrats of Mercer county in a primary last Saturday. He defeated his opponent, F. P. McGarvey by 509 votes.

Must Have Had 'Em

Down at Harrodsburg last Thursday during a shower of rain, a lot of small lizards fell, so says the Herald. If it were not that we know it is in dry territory, we would inquire what brand they were drinking down there.

Road Work Discontinued.

Because of the continued dry weather the county machinery was compelled to quit operating on the Richmond pike. They have completed the road as far as Mr. A. R. Denny's farm, and as they were compelled to haul water from Dr. Burnett's pond at the Conn place, it was deemed advisable to wait for rain before continuing. As soon as we have sufficient rainfall the road will be completed to the Madison county line.

Negroes Tried.

In the county court last Thursday David Denny had his examining trial for the cutting of Mont Kavanaugh at Adamstown a few weeks ago. He was held over in the sum of $200. bond to await the action of the grand jury, in default of which he will remain in jail. Sam Davis, who carved up Fred Emerson, alias "Pottsie" during the colored fair was given one hundred days at hard labor. Both of the injured darkies were able to appear against their assailants.

Election Commissioners Named

At the meeting of the State Board of Election Commissioners held in Frankfort on last Saturday Mr. J. Fleece Robinson was named as the Democratic and Mr. R. H. Batson as the Republican commissioners for Garrard county. In eight counties in the state there were such warm factional fights in the Republican ranks that no commissioners were named, and the commission will meet again on September 6th to name commissioners for these counties.

Another Killing in Danville.

On last Saturday afternoon in the yards of the Q & C railroad in Danville Yardmaster Thomas J. Fitzgerald was so badly beaten over the head with a club that he died as a result of his injuries. William P. Nichols, a switchman, is in jail charged with the crime. Fitzgerald was 37 years of age and was married, and was from Waverly N. Y., where his remains were sent. Nichols refuses to discuss the matter. He is about 40 years of age and is from Corbin Ky.

Suicide at Crab Orchard.

M. J. Auxier and attorney of Pikeville Ky. who had been under treatment at a sanatorium at Crab Orchard Ky. suicided last Saturday by opening the arteries of his left arm with the blade of a safety razor. Thirty minutes before the deed was committed he had been given treatment by a physician, but so violent was the flow of blood from his wound that within the short time the bed clothing was soaked with blood and pools had formed on the floor. Auxier is survived by a wife and several small children who had but a few days previous left Crab Orchard for their home in Pikeville.

L. & N. Short Of Water.

Supt. Herron of the Water Works received a telegram from Supt. Anderson of the L. & N. at Paris Sunday stating that they desired to have at least four trains daily to take water at this station. Mr. Herron was compelled to inform him that this could not be done, not because we did not have the water, but because we cannot foresee when we will have enough rain to replenish the present supply of water at the lake.

Could Lancaster's water supply be increased and rendered proof against exhaustion, there is little doubt but that the L. & N. would establish a watering station at this point, which would insure many dollars of revenue yearly to the city.

Paint Lick Postoffice Robbed.

On the night of the 23rd inst what is thought to have been professional cracksmen robbed the postoffice at Paint Lick Ky., securing stamps and stamped paper and postoffice money to the amount of $424.50, $71.60 in money order money and about $20.00 in cash belonging to the postmaster, Mr. A. B. Estridge, also some valuable papers of Mr. Estridge. That gentleman places his individual loss, including damage to safe and property at $250. The thieves broke the lock on Conn's shop near the scene of the robbery and secured tools with which they prized open the rear door. They then blew the safe doors. Two reports were heard at about 1 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Estridge at once wired to Lexington for the dogs and Mr. Mullikin came over with them in an auto; the dogs readily struck the trail from the postoffice to Conn's shop and back, and thence across the bridge into Madison, where the cash drawer was found behind a stone wall. Here the trail was lost and it is presumed the thieves took an automobile, as one was heard to go toward Richmond about half hour after the reports were heard which supposedly blew the safe.

Patrons Of The Lancaster Graded School.

The sixteenth session of the Lancaster Graded School will begin Monday September 4th, according to present intentions. The friends and patrons of the school are cordially invited to be present at the simple opening exercises.

The tentative grade assignments have been made as follows:

1st A. and B. grades...Miss Brashear.
2nd. A. and B. and 3rd B...Miss Dean.
3rd A. and 4th A. and B...Miss Anderson.

5th A. and B. .... Mrs. Darnold.
6th. B. and 7th. A. and B...Miss Smith.
8th. A. and B. .... Miss West.

According to this division each teacher will have an average of 43 pupils if 1st B. or the primer grade, approximately 25.

Hereafter the primer division will only spend one year in 1st grade instead of two as heretofore. By means of this classification a pupil in the grades is promoted every 44 months, at midyear an 8th A pupil becomes a 9th grade member and an 8th B, becomes an 8th A. This classification greatly aids the equitable division of the pupils among the several teachers. The mode of division will be explained Monday by the principal or any grade teacher. The grades of the High School will be conducted in the usual manner.

The excellent school spirit of Lancaster is to be commended and it is hoped that the teaching may ever have your active sympathetic co-operation.

Yours very truly,
J. L. Riley, Principal.

A Day Off To Lancaster.

Having a day off concluded to spend it in Lancaster among my old friends and acquaintances. The first thing very noticeable was the excellent new pike which is completed from the town to A. R. Denny's home, a fraction over four miles, it is sure a dandy and is a credit to the parties that are making it, so let the good work go on until completed from Lancaster to the Paint Lick bridge regardless of cost, next on entering the town Richmond street I as, and is improving wonderfully a number of substantial, good, beautiful residence going up, some appeared to be finished; street and pavements nice and good and up to date. Next I drove out to Mr. Alex Walkers, a Bro Miller, and asked permission to hitch my horse in his lot, but no sir, hitching my horse in his lot was not the thing for him. Took him out, put him in his stable, fed him corn and oats and gave him a good drink of pure water. Next up town among old acquaintances, and when dinner time came I simply had to hide out to keep from imposing on my good friends who would simply have me take dinner or hide out. Then last but not least I went out to see the Sangers Combined Show; after getting my ticket I entered the big tent and agreeably surprised was I to have a nice young lady of the show to escort me to my seat, on leaving she chuckled me under the chin and seemed to wish me a good time. So I spent a very pleasant day in Lancaster indeed.

Your old friend

New Tobacco Plans.

President Clarence LeBus is seeking to establish a $2,500,000 plant for the purpose of handling the burley tobacco output of the state. He has proposed to Mr. J. B. Haggan, Master of Elmador, a proposition that he, Mr. LeBus, place his crop of 300 acres and that Mr. Haggan place his 500 acres in the pools a nucleus around which the proposed plan shall be formed. Mr. Haggan has the matter, which Mr. LeBus reduced to writing under consideration. The plan proposed by Mr. LeBus is that the growers in the burley district pool their acreage for ten years the pooling being recorded so as to render it binding on all parties, the tobacco then to be put together, the landowners to take 25 per cent of the entire crop or 50 per cent of their one half interest in stock in a company to be known as a manufacturing company or in other words they would turn over that amount of tobacco or its equivalent, the idea being, if possible to manufacture all the tobacco so pooled.

By this arrangement the manufacturing company would have, President LeBus points out, one-fourth of all the tobacco pooled with which to commence business. The manufacturing company would then pay the market price for all or any part of the other three-fourths remaining, and manufacture it also if the business justified. Any part that could not be used by the factory would be sold to the best advantage on the open market or privately and by this system the company could build up, they point out a good trade in the manufacture of tobacco. Under such a co-operative plan, President LeBus points out, it would be impossible for the "Tobacco Trust" to "squeeze" the manufacturing company, or put it out of business for the reason that the factory would have an income of one fourth of all the tobacco pooled each year for ten years, which would enable it to continue in business until it did make a success and become a profitable enterprise.

Since the above plan was suggested it has met with much encouragement among the large tobacco growers of the state, and President LeBus is of the opinion that it will meet with ultimate success.

East End Mills Sold.

The East End Mills have been sold by its proprietors, Messrs Sanders & Schooler to Burnside & Robinson and Mr. Terry Hagan. Possession will not be given until January 1st. Mr Hagan has sold his farm on the Lancaster pike to Mr. Lem Whitaker, the gate manufacturer of this city.—Richmond Register.

Republicans Choose A New Chairman.

At a meeting of the Garrard county Republican Committee Monday afternoon Mr. A. B. Estridge tendered his resignation as Chairman of that body, which was accepted and Mr. W. C. Winn was chosen to succeed him. Mr Winn is a prominent farmer of the Paint Lick section, and is an ex-member of the Kentucky legislature.

Land Sales.

On Monday Dr. J. A. Amon, Master Commissioner of the Garrard circuit court, sold a tract of land containing 110 1/2 acres at mouth of Back Creek belonging to the estate of the late Cyrus Sanders. Burton Sanders and Arthur Hager became the purchasers at $50. per acre.

The Commissioner also sold a tract comprising 17 acres on Sugar Creek belonging to the Simpson heirs, Milo Simpson being the purchaser for $401.

The 375 acre farm on White Lick Creek belonging to the late J. M. Higginbotham's heirs was offered for sale by Mr. G. T. Higginbotham, and as he received an offer of only $45. per acre for it he withdrew it from the market. The land will be offered privately.

T. B. Walker's Will Probated.

In the county court Monday the Will of the late T. B. Walker was offered for probate. Judge Lewis L. Walker and John F. Walker were named as executors, John F. Walker declined to qualify and Judge Walker took the oath and executed bond in the sum of $25,000 as executor. Mr. Walker left his property in accordance with the laws of descent and distribution of the state of Kentucky, with the exception that he willed that the executor should have the right to sell the real estate if necessary for the purpose of paying his debts, and that the residue of the proceeds of said sale should be treated as real estate.

Mr. Walker, besides a goodly amount of other personality, left $2000. life insurance and his large farm in the outskirts of town. Messrs J. S. Johnson, W. F. Champ and J. W. Sweeney were appointed as appraisers of the estate.

Difficulty At Paint Lick.

On last Saturday morning a report was circulated that a killing had taken place in Paint Lick. Sheriff Ballard and County Attorney Robinson immediately went to the scene and when they reached there found a mountain had grown out of a mole hill. The foundation for the rumor was a difficulty between John Foley a blacksmith who formerly lived here, his wife and son on one side and a man named John Waddle on the other. It seems that Waddle and Mrs Foley had had previous trouble over the boy Isaiah Foley, and it is claimed that this was renewed and that the boy secured a shot gun and discharged its contents into Waddle, eighty bird shot taking effect in various parts of his anatomy. It was charged that Foley aided and abetted the boy in his action. The officers arrested the Foleys and brought them to town, and as Waddle was unable to appear, the trial was postponed until Monday. Before Judge Ford Monday Isaiah Foley was held to the grand jury under $500. bond, in default of which he went to jail. Mrs Foley was given a $50. fine which the court gave her until Saturday to settle. John Foley was dismissed. It seems that the good people of Paint Lick are bothered a good deal with this kind of lawlessness and should be afforded some kind of police protection.

Monday is Labor Day. The banks will close and the postoffice will observe holiday hours.

Eld F. M. Tindler will fill his pulpit at the Christian church Sunday Morning September 3rd.

H. T. Logan has a tailor with him Friday and Saturday of this week, stop in and see the new styles.

Money due Jurors for June term of court is now ready.
F. G. Hurt T. J. F.

Miss Willie B. Henry and Forest D. Ross both of near Spoonville, this county were quietly married at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon by Judge Ford. The happy young couple left at once for their home.

Horses and Mules.

Mr. R. B. Shuman of Monticello Fla, will be in Lancaster Tuesday Sept. 5th, to buy a car load of horses and mules.

Another Automobile.

Mr. David Hurt is the latest addition to the list of automobilists. He has just purchased a White Steamer runabout and will now disport himself on the recently constructed Richmond boulevard.

Burnam Ledford Improving.

The my friends of Mr. C. B. Ledford who recently underwent a serious operation at the Lancaster Hospital will be glad to know that he is greatly improved and that he hopes to leave the hospital this week and return to his home and business at Manse.

Drought Partially Relieved.

Rain has fallen within the past week all over the county in sufficient quantities to be of great help to the growing crops, especially late corn and tobacco, and in some places the down fall has served to start the springs and creeks. However we can start a lot more of it as there is a scarcity of stock water in many regions.

New Insurance Firm.

Mr. Jas. B. Collier has purchased the interest of Mr. J. S. Haselden in the firm of Beazley & Haselden. The style of the new firm is Beazley & Collier. Mr Collier is well known to nearly every person in this county having been in business here for several years. They will continue to write insurance as heretofore and their office is at the same place. It goes without saying that they will continue the good business of the old firm.

Mr. Haselden hasn't decided as yet what business he will go into but we hope not to lose him from our town.

Good Man Announces

In this issue of the paper will be found the announcement of Mr. Walton E. Moss for Magistrate in the first district of Garrard County. Mr. Moss is well and favorably known by nearly every democrat in the county having moved here twelve years ago from Frankfort, N. C. where he was born. He came here a young man and married Miss Eudoxia Moss, a daughter of Mr. W. B. Moss. He is one of the leading farmers of this county and is a fine business man as every one who knows him is bound to say. He is a good democrat and while he never run for an office before he has always voted the democratic ticket and had the best interest of the party at heart. If elected to this office Mr. Moss will guard well the interest of the people.

The Water Problem.

Lancaster is face to face with two serious and self evident propositions. The first one is one that will admit of no argument, and we will dismiss it with the mere statement of the fact: Our water supply is BAD, not from point of quantity, but quality; the water is unfit for any domestic use, to say nothing of drinking, and for fire purposes and there its usefulness ends.

The second and more serious problem is that in the very near future our water supply must be increased. The droughts are becoming more serious each year, the drain upon the capacity of the reservoir in increasing each year, 14 taps have been made on the main since January 1st, the public demand for water, both in quantity and quality is increasing each year; had we assurance of an inexhaustible supply of pure water, more industries would locate with us, ice plants, laundry and various other enterprises, which the limited supply now precludes.

The present system of water works was placed in operation on January, 15, 1904; the reservoir as originally constructed had a capacity of 20,000,000 gallons, the dam was 650 feet in length and 25 feet high, and was constructed, filtration plant, site and all complete, at a cost of $24,000, for which the city voted bonds. The bond issue carried a proviso that the taxation should provide a sinking fund of $800. per year for thirty years for the redemption of the bonds, and for the payment of the interest thereon. At the time of this bond issue the taxation was placed at the extreme limit, and the money which they were thus enabled to raise was not sufficient to go to the river, as a great many people argue should have been done in the beginning. At this time things are different, taking the bonds that have been redeemed together with the increased valuation of the taxable property within the city since the erection of the water works, it places it within our power to vote a sufficient amount of money to go to Dix river and secure an inexhaustible amount of pure fresh water, that will answer all purposes for all time to come.

There are two methods which have been suggested for making this extension, the first one sounds mighty good, if it could be done: it is that the present water plant be sold to some private party or parties, and the money realized therefor put into a system or sewerage for the city, this is a splendid idea if it could be done.

The second suggestion is that we run a four inch main from the present reservoir to Dix River, a distance of about 14 miles, establish an auxiliary pumping station at the river and pump the water through an up-to-date filtering plant to be erected at the present water works site, and then on into town. This pumping station need be maintained only during the summer months, as the lake would furnish pure and wholesome water in sufficient quantities for all purposes during the winter. We shall not attempt to go into details or to deal with facts and figures as to the relative cost of construction or maintenance of this auxiliary pumping station and extension of the water facilities, but a casual estimate places the cost within the limit of $10,000, and we believe that it would be money well spent.

There is no doubt but that the present water plant has not only proven a blessing to the town, but it has paid for itself many times over in the amount of property that it has saved from fire.

This question is one that is rapidly forcing itself upon us, and is one that cannot be neglected. The time is coming, and rapidly when something MUST be done, and two see no reason why the question should not be taken up now, without waiting until stern necessity forces it upon us.

This article is prompted by the frequent complaint heard from our citizens as to the quality of the water, and the desire upon their part to have increased facilities, as well as good water.

We do not desire to advance or suggest any theory as to how the matter should be handled, it is immaterial to us as to what method should be used or what plan should be adopted, but we do believe from the many remarks that we have heard upon the subject that the question should be no longer neglected, and that some means should be adopted for the increase of our present water supply, and that some effort should be made to give us pure and wholesome water throughout the entire year.

The Ticket And The Platform.

The more the work of the Democratic Convention is studied the more it appeals to thinking people everywhere. The platform adopted was an expression of the will of the Democrats of the State, the majority of delegates believing that the party should take an advanced stand on all public questions. It would have been an easy matter for the candidate to have dodged every troublesome issue that the campaign presents, but they boldly faced every situation and frankly and sincerely put themselves on record so that there could be no question where they stand. Even the highest court in the land finds itself divided on important questions of law, and it naturally follows that more than a thousand delegates from every section of the State, all influenced by the condition of affairs in their particular locality, should hold different views on public questions. But after a thorough discussion in the Committee on Resolutions and upon the floor of the Convention, the majority of the Democrats adopted the platform that becomes the party doctrine, and every true Democrat must feel himself bound to support it.

The rule of the majority is a Democratic doctrine as old as the party itself. In no other way can the party speak, and after it has once spoken its enunciation becomes the inviolate law. Men will naturally differ as to what is wise or unwise in a strenuous campaign for high offices. If there were unanimity of opinion there would be no interest, and the party would die of inanition. Vigorous discussion is necessary to not only reveal the merits, but the demerits of vexed questions of public policy. A man feels better when he has fought a matter out with his friend or his enemy, and generous men are always willing to concede victory to the man who has overthrown them.

When the personal feeling that is always shown in political assemblages dies out, and it is happily already on the wane, there can be but one opinion about the State platform and the nominees of the Democratic party, and that is that together they form the strongest argument ever made for Democratic success.

Spellbinders in Canada are busy making speeches against the adoption of the Reciprocity treaty, but are meeting with but indifferent success. The market gardeners are almost unanimous in their opposition to the treaty, but unfortunately for the opposition, the market gardeners are sadly in the minority.

A meeting of all persons in the counties of Eastern Kentucky who are in favor of the breaking up of lawlessness in that section is called at Jackson in Breathitt county for October 9th. It is thought a system of "Rangers" such as are used in Texas to patrol the lawless section will be adopted.

Thirty minutes after three thousand pounds of dynamite had been discharged under the direction of C. W. Post in Texas to produce rain, copious showers fell, six hours thereafter a heavy rain set in and the drought was completely broken. The rain continued for hours.

The campaign to raise $40,000 for the purpose of completing "Lincoln Way" through Hardin county has resulted in the raising of near $34,000., and the balance will easily be raised and the building of the road is assured.

At a special election to amend their charter in Knoxville Tenn. last Saturday the commission form of government was adopted by a vote of 10 to 1. The first commissioners will be elected in January 1912.

Only a Cow-Coroner.

They were discussing a United States senator who had been a railroad attorney before he became a statesman and who, many thought, had not given up his job when he assumed his toga. "It's all rot!" said a man who knows the senator. "He never was a railroad attorney except to go out and try damage cases. Why, all that man ever was was a cow coroner!"

The Political Campaign Is On.

"Jockey Row" A Nuisance.

A gentleman whose place of business is on "Jockey row," or the street used for that purpose, in conversation with a Record representative on Tuesday was loud in his denunciation of that thoroughfare and its habits, and stated that he would at the next meeting of the City Council apply for some relief. He said that a conglomerate gang of both blacks and whites congregated there on county court day and made life miserable for every body in the neighborhood, that they exchanged everything from a broken bladed pocket knife to a thirty five cent finger tailed horse, and that it was a place of refuge for all the bootleggers and whiskey drinkers that came to town on that day. All of which served to discourage sober, quiet citizens from visiting that locality for the transaction of business, or any other purpose.

"Jockey Row" has long been a thorn in the side of our City Council, and has many times been moved from place to place, and it seems that it an unwelcome guest anywhere, and will have to be abolished completely.

Asleep.

He is sleeping sweetly now. Not one care upon his brow; In his eyes no fever burning; In his heart no eager yearning: Both his hands are quiet, dear, And there is no crystal tear Oh his cheek; the night is sweet To the quiet of his feet.

He is sleeping over calm In the perfume and the balm That must bring to him at last All the pageants of the past In their bright procession winding Down the vales beyond all finding But to those who sleep with him Where the dreamless years are dim. He is sleeping softly now. With no wrinkle on his brow. All we lived for—there he lies, With the slumber on his eyes, Everlasting! Let him sleep, Do not murmur, do not weep! Think, my darling, of the tears He will know not through the years! Baltimore Sun.

Jinks' Romance

A Civil War Vet's Tale
By F. A. MITCHEL
Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Jinks," said one of a party of civil war veterans to a comrade, whose bald head shot out a few spears of white hair and whose gums always met when he closed his jaws, "why didn't you never get married?"

Jinks uncrossed his legs, recrossed them the other way and said: "There's a romance in my life."

"A romance! You don't mean to say there's any romance or ever has been in you! It wouldn't be nat'l'l to you."

"I wasn't always like I am now, no more'n you fellows. I was sleek enough when we was fighting Johnny Rebs."

"Well, tell us about your romance."

"It began when we was goin' up that long slant at Fordericksburg. If ever there was a place particularly cal'clated to mow down men and have plenty of time to do 't, that 'inclined plane takes the cake. It's nearly fifty year since we was led up there, and nobody hain't yit found out who was responsible. Mr. Lincoln warn't no soldier, but if he'd seen he'd known it was a good slaughter pen and nothin' else."

"Me and Bob Aker was trudin' along side by side, expectin' either one 't'other would drop. We was bosom friends. All of a sudden Bob pitched forward. I dropped out and bent over him. He just had time before he fell on 't'other side to stretch out a hand with a ring on it and say:

"Take it to Sue and tell her I want her to marry you instead of me."

"I pulled the ring off his finger, and he died while I was a doin' it. Silly! the thing on my own finger. I got up and hurried along to my regiment, though even in this short time the place where we'd been was as wide as a church door."

"Bob had had plenty of time to tell me all that was necessary, for he'd told me the most often before. Laws, how the boy did talk about that gal! So good, so gentle, so lovin'. Then he would say: 'It nearly kills me to think that I may git killed down here and some other feller'll take my place with her. If any man does I want you to be her husband, Bill. If I knew she was goin' to you it wouldn't seem so bad.' He'd often showed me the ring she'd given him, and he'd given her one in exchange."

"I was powerful affected by all this, see'n' Bob killed right beside me and his turnin' the gal he couldn't have himself over to me. I tell you I was all broke up."

"The old man took out his handkerchief, blew his nose and incidentally touched his eyes with the wipe."

"Oh, don't get maudlin, Jinks!"

"I came out o' that slaughter all right, and as soon as I'd got Bob a trifle out o' my mind I fell to dreamin' o' his gal. I'd go over plans to break the news o' Bob's message and all about it. I wondered if I could persuade her to take me instead o' Bob and how long I'd be a doin' it. There'd be lots o' delicacy required, and I didn't know how a rough chap like me could git down to it. The only thing I could do would be to do the best I could. I kind a thort that a good deal depended on my gittin' the gal, for I had some hold on her—Bob had made the request—and I didn't have a hold on any other gal and no prospect o' havin' any other hold."

"The war ended at last, and I'd 'a' gone straight to Bob's gal, but I was mustered out far from her home, and I didn't have no money to buy a ticket with. Besides, I was out at the seat o' the briches. So I had to go to work to git the cash. Of course when I got a place I couldn't git my employer to let me go off courtin' a gal whose heart was like enough buried down in Virginia. Anyway, I didn't like to ask him, and so I kep' a-puttin' the thing off and puttin' it off till a number of years went by. All this time I was pinin' for the wife that I was expectin' to git."

"By gum, Jinks, you air givin' us a romance, ain't you?"

"It was ten years before I got round to goin' to give Bob Aker's message."

"I remember mighty well the day I went to the town she lived in, a village in a valley. I found the house, a little cottage with wisteria."

"Oh, cut out them embellishments."

"There was a man standin' on the corner, with his hands in his pockets, chawin' tobacco. I went up to him, and to open conversation I asked him for a chew. He gave it to me, and then I asked if he knew Bob's gal. He said he'd known her ever since she was knee high to a duck. Then I told him that it was beside Bob Aker when he was killed and he had sent a ring and a message by me."

"What was the message?" the man asked.

"I kind o' wanted to get somebody to help me carry this load o' romance that was breakin' me down, so I showed him the ring and told him the hill story. He jist faced me and stood lookin' into my eyes, and I knew that somethin' was votin' in his mind."

"Young man," he said, impressive like, "Bob Aker's girl married me a month before Bob was killed. If you want to give her the ring and relieve me I hain't no objection to your doin' it. You may have fought in the war, but you can't wrastle with her—no man can."

"For heaven's sake, Jinks, is that your romance?"

"He made it out of whole cloth. The reason he hain't got a wife is 'cause he couldn't git one."

A WORD WITH WOMEN.

Valuable Advice For Lancaster Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." When the kidneys get congested and inflamed, there are many such aches and pains and the whole body suffers.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. They can't get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought sound backs and new life and strength to thousands of suffering women. They are enforced by thousands--endorsed at home--Read this Lancaster woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. B. F. Walter, Hill St., Lancaster, Ky., says: "I never fail to praise Doan's Kidney Pills when I have the opportunity. I have never been without a supply of this remedy in the house for years and whenever my back becomes lame and painful, a few doses always bring prompt relief. For some time I suffered from kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were unnatural and I knew that my kidneys were disordered. At that time it was my good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply at Frisbie's Drug Store. Through their use my kidneys were restored to a normal condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name--Doan's--and take no other.

MYRIAD FEATURES BANISH DULL CARE

ATTRACTIONS OF PASS WILL CONTRAST WITH MORE SERIOUS EXHIBITS.

MUSIC BY ELEPHANT BAND

Free Attractions More Numerous Than Ever Before Furnished—Racing Events Are Carkers.

Variety not only is the spice of life but experience has proven that it is one of the requisites of success for a big undertaking of a public character such as a state fair. In recognition of this fact the management of the Kentucky State Fair has made plans for the ninth annual exhibition which promise entertainment for all classes and sections. While the more serious form of entertainment comes first, especially in connection with an educational institution such as the Kentucky State Fair is proving to be, the demand always is great for something in a lighter vein which will help drive dull care away and furnish a kind of mental dessert for the feast of good things which the new premium list discloses.

It was the recognition of this element in human nature which caused the side show at the county fair to be born. The idea progressed until the great international exhibitions at Chicago and St. Louis were produced. It was at the former that the midway became a reality and at the latter that the Pass was introduced. Both struck a popular chord and thus it is that the different state fairs are not considered complete without some such feature.

Both Novel and Clean.

But, together with the adoption of the Pass feature has come the recognition of the further fact that the general public will not long approve it unless it is encompassed by moral surroundings and not prove offensive to the crowds which attend. The contracts made for the myriad Pass features for the coming fair included stipulations to the effect that the shows must be clean, while retaining the virtue of being novel. This condition will be complied with. Not only will the shows be novel but they will be new. The old time, much worked over exhibitions will not be countenanced. On the Pass, as well as everywhere else, the public will be expected to be given their money's worth and failure on the part of showmen to do this will meet with instant rebuke.

As an adjunct to the Pass features will be the numerous free acts, all thrilling and exciting. Caterers to popular amusement assert that the great Babcock act in which a bicycle rider dashes down a steep incline, loops the loop and gaps the gap so quickly that the spectators can with difficulty follow him, with their eye, is one of the most thrilling ever produced.

Music on All Hands.

The musical elephants will be a source of continuous delight to the children as well as their elders. The "stunts" which these huge pachyderms perform illustrate what patience and ingenuity will accomplish in the training of wild beasts.

The Whinnies Lunette Sisters furnish still another attraction of more than ordinary interest. All lovers of music will enjoy the abundance of it provided by the state fair management. Three high class bands, more than have ever before been heard on the state fair grounds, will render programs each morning, afternoon and night of the fair. Calliendi, the great Italian leader naturally will be most in evidence.

Fat Pursues For the Races.

A total of $6,000 in purses will be offered in connection with the racing events which will exceed in interest any ever before held. Kentucky is today the center of racing as a result of the fight made on the sport in numerous states and the stand early taken by the legislature in passing laws for the control of racing which puts it on a high plane. There will be twelve races in all during the week, seven trotting and five pacing events. Due to the fact that the head-on collision is scheduled for Saturday afternoon of fair week it will mean that on the first five days of the fair the public will get more than its usual share of races. On Monday there will be two, and on Wednesday and Thursday there will be three races each.

ENTICING STAKES OFFERED FOR FIVE GAITED SADDLERS

COL. M. C. RANKIN READY WITH GENEROUS PURSE IN THIS CONNECTION.

Col. M. C. Rankin, commissioner of agriculture, has come to bat this year with a guarantee of $500 in cash as "The Commissioner of Agriculture Stake" for five gaited saddle horses. This special stake of $500 is for gaited saddle horses, stallions, mares or geldings, to be shown under saddle in accordance with the rules of the Kentucky State Fair governing this class. This stake will be divided as follows:

Forty per cent to the first horse, 25 per cent to the second, 15 per cent to the third, 10 per cent to the fourth and 10 per cent to the fifth.

A condition is that all entries be registered in the American Saddle Horse Register. The name of the horse must be filed with the secretary of the Kentucky State Fair by September 1.

Poor Artists.

Miss Peach—I hate rubbers. They draw my feet so badly. Her Escort—Such pretty models too.—Exchange.

Grant's Memoirs.

More than $600,000 in royalties was paid Mrs. U. S. Grant from the sale of the "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant."

MEN BEHIND GUNS IN MAKING OF GREAT FAIR

MEMBERS OF STATE BOARD AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEEMEN ACCOMPLISH WONDERS.

The members of the Kentucky State Fair board, together with those chosen to serve on the executive committee, to the end that the ninth annual Kentucky State Fair may be made the biggest from all standpoints in the history of the Commonwealth, are as follows:

State Fair Board—Hon. M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture, ex-officio, chairman, Frankfort; M. A. Scovell, director Kentucky Experiment Station, ex-officio, Lexington; G. N. McGrew, fifth Appellate district, Bayou; J. L. Dent, second Appellate district, Leitchfield; H. S. Van Zant, third Appellate district, Edmonton; L. L. Dorsey, fourth Appellate district, Anchorage; H. M. Froman, fifth Appellate district, Ghent; William Adams, sixth Appellate district, Cynthiana; Fred R. Blackburn, seventh Appellate district, Stanton.

Executive Committee—Hon. M. C. Rankin, J. L. Dent, H. S. Van Zant, H. M. Froman and Fred R. Blackburn, of the state board, and Julius V. Beckmann, Caldwell Norton, C. B. Norton, Walter Glover and Fred Kelsker, Louisville. Secretary, Perry M. Shy, Louisville; Assistant secretary, L. B. Shropshire, Louisville.

The task which these gentlemen have set themselves to do is a big one, but they have already accomplished a vast amount of work in arranging the details, in making contracts, deciding on the total appropriations for different purposes, arranging the premium list, providing for improvements in the grounds and buildings and looking after the comfort of the tens of thousands who will attend the big exhibition.

HORN OF PLENTY AT STATE FAIR

PANDORA'S BOX WILL BE REVEALED BY OFFERINGS OF RICH PRIZES.

WOMAN IN HER ELEMENT

Field, Seed and Grain Show to Open Eyes of Husbandmen—Boy's Corn Clubs Favored.

A fortune in prizes, offered in connection with regular exhibits, and any number of special prizes offered as inducements to the people of Kentucky to put the very best of their products on display at the coming Kentucky State Fair, is having the effect of interesting exhibitors to an extent never before known this early in advance. But, aside from the actual money to be obtained, there is that about the preparations for the coming monster exhibition which carries confidence with it.

The Kentucky State Fairgrounds, when occupied with all that will go to make up the magnificent show to be held for one week in September, beginning on Monday, the 11th, and ending at midnight Saturday, the 16th, will provide an array of features sufficient to tempt the interest and hold the attention of any one seeking instruction, entertainment and agricultural and technical uplift.

Dainty Needle Work.

Here articles of needle work, almost endless in number, old fashioned blankets or counterpane, shawls, dainty articles of feminine wear, all representing long hours of careful and painstaking work, will be shown.

Another feature which will appeal to the women, as well as the men, is the poultry department. This industry has progressed wonderfully, even in the past year, and to-day those in Kentucky and Southern Indiana, who are giving time and money to the raising of wonderfully impressive specimens in the poultry line, are numbered by the thousands.

Then there is the Field, Seed and Grain department. The husbandman who provides the food which sustains the greatest nation of the earth will be in his element when he reaches this department next September, as Secretary Shy has seen to it that special attention is to be given the products of the field.

Prizes For Best Cereal.

Prominent among the innovations will be the Boy's Corn Show, with prizes sufficient to tempt the best of the youthful corn growers. Already, over the state, the rivalry is keen, and the members of the different clubs are striving with might and main to produce specimens of the cereal which they hope will capture one or more of the premiums.

The state has been divided into three districts for the purposes of the corn show and the prizes will be awarded as to districts. Then, to cap the climax, there will be a grand sweepstakes prize, which will cause the boys from some sections of Kentucky to return home after September 16 next, proudly bearing the trophy which will be a fine tribute to their skill and industry.

In connection with the Field, Seed and Grain, Poultry and Women's Departments, respectively, Secretary Shy calls attention to the fact that the closing dates for entries, which will be strictly adhered to, are as follows:

Women's department, Saturday, September 2; Field, Seed and Grain, Monday, September 4, and Poultry, Thursday, September 7.

IF I HAD ECZEMA.

I'd wash it away with that mild, soothing liquid, D. D. D. Trial bottle, 25c. Relieves all kinds of skin trouble, cleansing away the impurities and clearing up the complexion as nothing else can.

Yes, if I had any kind of skin trouble I'D USE D. D. D. R. E. McRoberts & Son.

If you have children or invalids in the family beware

W. B. Burton made the following purchases:—Of Owen Locker a five year old bay mare for $150, of R. Burton of Madison a 7 year old bay mare for $140 and a six year old sorrel gelding of Mr. Sutton for $160. He also bought six 5 year old mules at $150 each.

An exchange estimated that the burley tobacco crop in this state this year will not exceed fifty million pounds as against three hundred millions raised last year. It further states two hundred of the best crops in the burley district have been damaged by the hailstorms.

Very little Fall ploughing has been done in this county because of the dry weather, and the probabilities are that very little will be done, as there will be such a rush of farm work when it does rain that the farmer will have to give his attention to other matters and let the plowing go until Spring.

Mr. G. A. McRoberts delivered an exceptionally fine bunch of export cattle this morning to Mr. S. Wiel, of Lexington. There were 68 head in the bunch and they averaged 1,430 pounds each. This is said to be one of the nicest bunches of cattle that has been sold in Kentucky this year.

Messrs Alex and Luther Gibbs on last Saturday delivered to Mr. Joe Bales of Richmond, Ky., their 139 export cattle which they recently sold to that gentleman for 6 cents per pound. The entire lot averaged 1350 pounds.

The Messrs Gibbs are the most extensive raisers of export cattle in Garrard county. Their cattle this year came far below the usual average in weight, due to the drought and consequent scarcity of grass.

Chickens and Humans. There is constant chatter while the pullets are eating—a flow of table-talk that would delight the heart of a hostess. But in the cockerel pen there is no small talk; they saw wood. Every fellow for himself, and the chopping block takes the hindmost. Oh, well, to each his own. And the pot has no need to call the kettle black. The men would rather eat than talk, and the women would rather talk than eat. We may as well own up.—Suburban Life.

Cows in Summer. There is a tradition that cows will do better in warm weather than in cold weather, but experience has disproved this fact. It is often easier to reproduce summer conditions in the winter stable than it is to thoroughly protect the stock from the pests that make them go dry in summer.

HOG WISDOM.

Get the young pigs out on the ground as soon as the weather will permit.

Nothing will retard the growth or cripple a young pig so quickly as to keep it on a board floor.

Sunshine is good for the pigs. Keep them in it.

Keep the sleeping quarters and feeding places clean and thoroughly disinfected.

The swill or feed barrel should be well cleaned and scalded every week at least.

The hogs should not be allowed to become lousy.

Spray with some good disinfectant and grease all over, and don't neglect the inside of the ears.

FEEDING THE FARM HORSE.

Faulty Methods Responsible For Many Diseases.

Probably the most important part in the care of the horse is the feeding. A large majority of the diseases among farm horses result from faulty feeding, says C. L. Barnes of the Colorado experiment station. Many make the mistake of not securing the best feed. Their trouble begins when partially matured, musty, dusty feed is used.

Several points should be taken into consideration when the amount of feed is decided upon, whether the animal is accustomed to dry feed and in good flesh or in thin, emaciated condition.

A horse should not be fed a large quantity of hay and grain without exercise. Many think that because a horse is thin in flesh no work should be required of him. It is always best to work the flesh into the animal rather than to fatten him as a steer.

A good plan is to have a stated program as to time and amount of feed to be given. Horses by all means should be fed regularly. Hay requires time for mastication and digestion. For this reason the large percentage of hay should be fed at night. Horses soon learn the manner of giving food and water, so it is best to have one feeder and have this plan followed out for all the horses. The horse should receive some water the first thing in the morning. After watering feed a small amount of hay and then give grain after the hay has been eaten. By this plan the feed, which is Dirty Fleeces Defined. The wool markets recognize three classes of unclean wool, says Farm and Fireside. The first class results from one of two causes. Either the sheep are not provided with clean sleeping places and cannot help but lie in a filthy bed or they are yarded with cattle and become defiled, particularly where cattle and sheep are crowded together. Both of these conditions make a matted and a dirty fleece.

Weeds are another prolific cause of trouble. By far the most disagreeable is the burdock, but sand burs are scarcely second in importance. Wool buyers will not pay a high price for wool snarled up with weeds, for there is no machinery made that can separate it without serious damage to the threads.

In some sections sand causes the most trouble of all. Some summer days, when a high wind is blowing and the sheep are huddled up against some hill, sand from the valley below will be blown against them in a steady stream, until the wool is permeated.

A fleece which is not soaked with manure or that is free from weeds and sand is considered to be clean, even if it is not as bright in appearance as might be desired.

Rearing the Calf. The calf should be fed about four quarts of whole milk a day at first. After about three weeks one quart of skimmed milk may be added. This skimmed milk should be warmed. About a teaspoonful of oilmeal should be added to the milk as the way the industrialists put it.

Care should be taken that the calf is not fed warm milk one time and cold milk the next, for this is almost sure to produce the scours. In case the calf does get the scours it should be fed ground dried blood in doses of a teaspoonful to a feed until the trouble has stopped. This dried blood is sold at most feed stores. In case it cannot be obtained a tablespoonful of common salt will be found very effective.

Teach the calf to eat grain after it is four or five weeks old. Let it get without one feed of milk, so it will be hungry, and place a few grains in the calf's mouth. If you hold up its head it soon learns to chew the grain.—Kansas Farmer.

Paralysis From Overfeeding. Paralysis in swine most often follows overfeeding of rich nitrogenous foods to animals that are closely confined. Pigs do best when allowed a considerable range and not fed too highly. As this affection, says Farmers' Digest, involves the spinal cord, it is not only liable to prove fatal, but is not, as a rule, satisfactorily treated.

First remove the cause. Cut down the feed and allow plenty of range, and if not fed too liberally they will forage about and get exercise. Young pigs only partially paralyzed will often come right treated as above advised.

Necessity For Good Sires. Good sires are very essential if hogs of the highest quality are to be grown and a uniformly profitable herd built up. Only pure bred boars should be kept, and these should be carefully selected to insure prepotency, quality and soundness.

The Old Bull Valuable. Don't be in a hurry to get rid of the old bull. Remember that he has proved himself, and the calf that you buy will be more or less of a lottery.

HOG CHOLERA SYMPTOMS.

Signs That Indicate Presence of Dread Disease.

All cases of hog cholera do not show the typical symptoms. Generally two or possibly three hogs appear dumpy, the eyes watery. Later the hogs may become anorectic. There may be a slight discharge from the nostrils.

In the course of a week or ten days these hogs go off their feed and are attacked by diarrhea. The discharges from the bowels vary in color from black to grayish, are watery and of a very offensive odor. They now appear tucked up in the flanks and possibly thumping may be noted. They rapidly become thin in flesh and finally too weak to move about, crawl under some straw and die. In a few days, others become sick. Those that are first attacked now begin to die, and in the course of three or four weeks most of the herd may have succumbed to the malady unless remedial agents are administered and the ravages of the disease are checked. Pneumonia may accompany the disease, and when it is present there may be noted accelerated respiration and a short, hacking cough.

There may be noted red or purple patches, particularly along the belly or flanks. This is particularly noticed in white skinned hogs. The ears may become inflamed and appear red and swollen. When the hog is opened small hemorrhages may be observed on the thorax and abdominal cavity. Very small hemorrhages may be noted in the kidneys. The lymph glands (spleen) may show hemorrhages in them. When the bones are cut open the softer, spongy parts may appear reddish black, due to hemorrhages. If the stomach and intestines be opened areas in the stomach will be noted bright red. This is an area of inflammation, but may not always be present. The inflammation may affect only a part of the stomach. This inflammation may extend into the intestines. If the colon or large intestines be opened there may be found ulcers varying in diameter up to one-half inch. These usually appear button-like and are hence sometimes called button ulcers.
